Happy 2015 Old Lyme! While January began quietly, making some of us believe it might be a fairly mild winter, Mother Nature gave a clear message on Jan. 26th – winter is never over until it's over! The Blizzard of 2015 was predicted to be historic in many ways, but thankfully, history was made in other areas like Boston and New Hampshire. While admittedly we received lots of snow, we were spared the loss of electricity and our trees withstood the winds with grace.

Our Public Works crew did a tremendous job of cleaning up after the storm, and the volunteers who come together in times of emergency all did their job and did it well. We should all be grateful to those individuals who make themselves available 24/7 in times of emergency! They include numerous volunteers from the Fire Dept., EMS (ambulance), Special Needs, Police, Respite volunteers, Sheltering, Logistics (equipment, etc.) and Public Information. A very special thank you to all of those who took part during the Blizzard to assure the safety of our residents. We also thank our Emergency Management Director, Dave Roberge, and his Deputy EMD, Troy Clark, who kept the EOC staffed throughout the storm. During the storm, we utilized our Old Lyme Alerts system to keep you updated on how we were handling the storm. If you have not already done so, PLEASE go to the Town website (www.oldlyme-ct.gov) and click on the red banner to sign up. We will not give out your information to others, and it will only be used for urgent messages. It was a great tool for us during the Blizzard. Let's hope the remainder of the winter is a quiet one!

I am pleased to report that Nicole Stajduhar, has decided to stay with the Town of Old Lyme as Finance Director. Ms. Stajduhar has been with the Town of Old Lyme since 2009, served as one of the auditors of town finances prior to that, and has done a fabulous job in keeping our financial house in order. Both the Board of Finance and Board of Selectmen were delighted to hear that she chose to stay on. Welcome back Nicole!

The Solarize Old Lyme kickoff on Dec. 4th was a huge success. We had nearly 100 people in attendance along with vendors and solar ambassadors and people from town who have already installed and enjoy solar for their homes. There are a lot of residents who want to look into solar, and this is a great opportunity! If you are interested in finding out if solar is right for you, you can go online to www.solarizect.com/OldLyme and don't hesitate to click on the GET STARTED button. by putting in your information, so try it. Even if solar is not for you, consider having your home assessed through the CL&P's Home Energy Solutions (HES). For $99.00, a contractor will come out to look at the energy efficiency of your home, AND provide up to $1,000 worth of work on making it more efficient. This is good for the environment, good for you as homeowner, and good for the Town of Old Lyme, as we will get credits towards energy efficient projects for the Town! Go to the CL&P website and look for Home Energy Solutions.

On Dec. 10, 2014, we had our Annual Tree Lighting Ceremony at Town Hall, with the Middle School Band providing seasonal music. Of course, the weather did not cooperate, the rain chasing the band into the Meeting Hall, where they played some terrific music. Thanks to Essex Savings Bank and the Lyme Old Lyme Chamber of Commerce, the students and guests all enjoyed cookies and hot chocolate after the event. It was a lovely and well attended ceremony.

The Boathouse Hains Park Improvements Committee will continue to work on the details of the design for the boathouse and the Master Plan of Hains Park. Some new members were appointed by the Board of Selectmen, and they include a representative from Park & Rec Commission, District #18, Board of Finance and the Building Official. As reported earlier, there will be public information sessions to share the changes to the plan that was presented at the Oct. 6, 2014 Town Meeting to keep residents informed.

The Rte 156 Bike Path and Sound View Improvements Committee has continued to meet to discuss some of the details of the plans and specification, but the focus has been on preparation for the Public Information meeting for March. BSC Group, Inc. is ready to present the preliminary design, but the Committee felt it was important to hold the Public Information meeting later in the year, to allow for seasonal residents to attend. It will be important to have this meeting in early March, 2015 in order to stay on schedule for completion of construction prior to the Summer of 2016. An announcement of the actual date of the presentation should be forthcoming. If you would like to submit a question or comment about the project, please email the committee at soundviewimprovements@gmail.com for a quick response.

Our Sanitarian, Sonia Marino, has accepted a position in another town as Director of Health - a great opportunity for her - so we bid her a fond farewell and wish her luck in her new position. We are very lucky to have hired a new Sanitarian, John Sieviec, who comes to us from the Town of Guilford. Guilford, CT has very similar soils and conditions to Old Lyme, so John's 25 years of experience will certainly serve us well. John officially starts on Monday, Feb. 9, 2015. Welcome to Old Lyme John Sieviec!

February 13, 2015 has been proclaimed by the Boards of Selectmen of Old Lyme, Lyme, East Lyme, Salem and Old Saybrook as "Loving Parting Day" in honor of the 350th Anniversary of the amicable separation from Saybrook. On that date in 1665, representatives of the settlers on both sides of the Connecticut River signed the agreement known as "the Loving Parting", making East Saybrook a self-supporting community, separate from the Saybrook Colony. Dear Valued Readers,

If you've ever seen an Events Magazine, you will appreciate that it provides the latest information from town mayors and selectmen, town departmental schedules and activities, senior news, menus and programs, library information, community listings, economic development and other important town information helping residents to "keep in touch" with what's happening close to home. And the content ensures true shelf life of the magazine.

As we enter our 19th year in 2015 we are introducing a redesign, from cover to cover. 2015 brings excitement as we continue to grow, adding our 15th town. Our latest addition provides local and regional advertisers greater coverage and awareness with the ability to reach over 250,000 readers at a very low cost per thousand.

Our dedication to our magazines will not change and our commitment to help bring our readers their local town news will continue.

Essex Printing Award Winner!

Many encouraging changes have transpired at Essex Printing. We were presented the "The Benny Award" from the Print Industry of America. Over 3000 entries from companies around the world competed in a variety of printing and graphic communications categories. We are very proud of our accomplishment being selected as one of only 84 companies around the world, and are able to say we are the "Best of the Best". Having won the Print Industry of New England's two Pinnacle Awards and Award of Excellence over the last two years highlights the quality and customer dedication at Essex Printing. In 2015 we will continue to look for new ways to enhance our products and assist our clients to meet their objectives.

I would like to thank you for making Essex Printing and Events Magazines part of your marketing and advertising plan. We are especially proud of the many wonderful and complimentary letters, cards, emails, and personal reviews we receive from our satisfied customers.

Our reputation of excellent customer service has helped us create and build lasting business relationships that are the hallmark of our continued success in helping your business and organization succeed! We look forward to working with you in 2015.

Sincerely, William McMinn, President, Essex Printing and Events Magazines

1667, the Connecticut General Court assigned the name "Lyme" to this new community, which also had its own church, known as the First Congregational Church. For more information on the Loving Parting and the history of the Lymes, please visit the Old Lyme Historical Society on Lyme Street (the former Grange Hall). We have a very interesting and rich history in our community.

The Annual Report for Fiscal Year 2014 was a very positive report on the strength and stability of the Town. Our finances are in good shape – tax collections were healthy, and our surplus increased from about 16% to 20%, due to prudent fiscal planning and spending. During late winter and early spring of 2015, the Board of Finance will meet weekly to work on the budget for Fiscal Year 2016. The budget hearing is planned for April 20, 2015, and the budget vote will be on May 18, 2015. For more information on the budget proceedings, be sure to read the minutes on the Town website. Please feel free to pick up your own copy of the 2014 Annual Report at the Selectman's Office.

On behalf of the Board of Selectmen, I wish you all a Happy New Year, and wishes for a warm, mild Spring.

Mooring Information

Steven A. Ross, Chairman and Harry Plaut, Harbor Master

The boating season is starting and we wish to inform people who would like to place a mooring in Old Lyme waters, including Long Island Sound, that a permit is required. The application form for a mooring permit is available at www.oldlyme-ct.gov under Harbor Management. The fee of $25 should be sent with the application when mailed or delivered to Town Hall.

If a marina handles the setting of your mooring, please be sure to submit an application with the fee because the marinas do not acquire permits and it is the responsibility of the mooring owner to do so.

The Harbor Master will conduct periodic inspections to be sure that moorings placed applied for a permit. Moorings with no permit, or no identification as to owner, will be tagged by the Harbor Master and removed if contact is not made within 3 weeks.

We recommend painting the owner name on the float, not stick on vinyl letters, to ensure the mooring can be identified.

Please remember to carefully check your mooring tackle when reusing to be sure all components are in good condition, particularly shackles. The requirements for mooring tackle are shown on the HMC section of the Town web site under Harbor Management Plan.

Please contact the Harbor Master if you have any questions regarding obtaining a mooring permit, placement of the mooring or other subjects. To contact the Harbor Master, or Harbor Management Commission, call the Town Hall Administrative Assistant at 860-434-1605 ext. 212 to leave a message.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Harbor Management Commission, which has an Alternate Member position available, can contact the Chairman by leaving a message at the same number above.

The Old Lyme-Lyme Volunteer Connection

If You Are a Volunteer Based Organization, You Should Be Listed!

Old Lyme and Lyme are strong communities due in large part to the amazing number of organizations (about 70!) that provide a range of services and benefits to our citizens with the generous support of countless volunteers. These organizations ensure our health and safety, provide social services, support education, provide cultural enrichment, preserve our history, conserve our land and natural resources, beautify our towns, and provide sports and recreation.

The Old Lyme-Lyme Volunteer Connection supports the efforts of these organizations by providing a free, unified online presence and a searchable system for volunteer positions <http://volunteer.truist.com/ollvolunteer>. Organizations that choose to participate benefit from increased visibility through their dedicated webpage and a great tool to recruit new volunteers. To be included, a representative from the organization needs to set up an account through the website. After receiving login information, organizations can then easily set up their page on which they may post a description, mission statement, history, contact information, logo, and much more. The organization may also post volunteer opportunities that can be viewed from the organization's page, the website's community calendar, or a keyword search tool. No special computer skills are needed. To qualify, organizations must be located in or providing services to the communities of Old Lyme or Lyme.

The Old Lyme-Lyme Volunteer Connection is a free community resource, thanks to a grant from the Lyme-Old Lyme Education Foundation and the effort of volunteers. For questions about listing your organization, contact Sophie Christiano, the high school student who manages this website, at ollvolunteer@gmail.com.

A Message: from John Pfeiffer, Chair of the Historic District Commission

We are part of an American society that treasures innovation, technology, progress, and development. We actively strive towards an ever evolving system where growth is mandatory and achievement is often measured by various kinds of monuments erected along our journey.

In this ongoing effort, we often lose sight of from where we have come and those who came before us. We are the reason for their struggles as are our children being the reason for our lives. It is valuable to reflect upon the past and gain appreciation of who we really are. An understanding of the past, and a respect for it, are in many ways the basis for respecting ourselves. It gives us identity!

In Old Lyme in the early 1970's we formed the Old Lyme Historic District. Those who spearheaded the effort, clearly recognized the value of the past, the direction in which we were headed regarding development, and the necessity of preserving a little piece of ourselves.

Our job on serving on the Historic District Commission is to work towards the preservation of the historic resources within the district and maintain their integrity. Those who have moved into the District have become special partners in the stewardship of this resource and are committed to its preservation. Residents of Old Lyme too, have a big part in preserving the District. It is, in many ways, our identity. It is where we: conducted town business, went to school, went to church, bought our groceries, picked up our mail, bought our tools and hardware, got our cars and machinery fixed, our plumbing needs arranged, saw our doctors, bought our prescriptions, got our hair cut and got the news of the town, bought our books and holiday presents, savored our ice cream and soda while listening to a juke box and quietly wandered the stacks of the library.

It is hard for most of us to recognize that during the Colonial and American period, Lyme street and avenues along Lieutenant River had been a bustling shipping community with docks, wharves, warehouses, shipbuilding yards, and homes that accommodated the wide range of residents that lived, farmed, worked, and traded both within Old Lyme and in other ports along the eastern American coast, West Indies, and as far away as China. Our community was made up of a wide spectrum of people and occupations. Their homes and businesses, barns and stone walled fields, docks and wharves are still present and attest to a past that truly constitutes a valuable resource. During the latter half of the 19th century, Old Lyme became home and school for artists. They came to a community where there were patrons who supported and nurtured their work. Our artists strove to capture the unique mixture of our natural landscape, domestic architecture, shoreline agrarian and business fiber. Their treasured works are all around us, as are their homes, school, studios, and scenes that they saw and interpreted.

What we see today, within the Old Lyme Historic District, is a clear reflection of our heritage. It is who we are.

Citizen of the Year

Lynn Fairfield-Sonn's volunteer commitments are testament to her steadfast loyalty and dedication. Through her efforts both locally and regionally, our 2014 Citizen of the Year has demonstrated those values time and time again.

Jim & Lynn Fairfield-Sonn searched for over a year before moving to Old Lyme in 1984. They chose their Lyme Street location so that the children they would raise here – Anne, Jimmy, and John – could walk to school and get involved. Lynn wasted no time getting involved herself.

She has served as president of the Junior League of Greater New Haven as well as the Old Lyme Day Care (now Children's Learning) Center, and served on the boards of the Chamber of Commerce of Southeastern Connecticut, the Coordinating Council for Children in Crisis, Janus House, and New Haven

Resolving Differences

Nancy Randall, Psy.D.
East Lyme Psychological Associates

Our relationships are a source of emotional support, security, and the feeling that we are not alone in the world. When things are going well, we love and feel loved, we offer support and seek it out ourselves. But relationships always involve differences as well. We can't always see things the same way or rely on the same solutions. If we want our relationships to be healthy and supportive, we must understand how to nurture them through these challenges. Resolving differences can be done in positive ways, using empathy and openness, rather than seeing it as a conflict that is either

Grass clippings are not allowed at the Transfer Station because of chemical contamination from pesticides and fertilizers and cannot be deposited in your trash can. Please compost on your property.

Electronics are now accepted at the Transfer Station. Residents are able to bring the following items to the Transfer Station on Four Mile River Road: computers (personal computers, mainframes, med-range computers, laptops); networking equipment (hubs, switches, control cards, etc.); computer monitors, televisions, printers, keyboards, mice, adaptors, stereos, speakers, VCR's, scanners, fax machines, copiers telephones and telephone systems, computer wire and cable; computer drives and storage devices (floppy drives, CD ROMs, hard drives), power supplies, circuit boards, microwaves, scrap copper (cable, pipe, etc.), scrap aluminum (machine and machine parts, cable extrusions, etc.), fluorescent light bulbs, UPA (uninterrupted power supply) batteries, and related computer and electronic equipment.

Habitat for Humanity. Lynn was a Board of Selectmen appointee to the Historic District Commission for 8 years.

To support her children's interests, Lynn was co-president of District 18's Friends of Music for 4 years, and President of the Football Booster club for 6. She has twice served the Old Lyme-Phoebe Griffin Noyes Library Board as its Treasurer, and served as Chair of our Board of Education for eight years.

Lynn Fairfield-Sonn's values have been imprinted on multiple community organizations, none more than the Child and Family Agency of Southeastern Connecticut, an organization she first volunteered for in 1989 and which she currently serves as Director of Development & Community Relations.

The Board of Selectmen honors Lynn Fairfield-Sonn for the loyalty and dedication that have defined her impact on our community by naming her our 2014 Citizen of the Year.

“won” or “lost.” To resolve conflicts in a relationship-building way, we need to follow certain guidelines. Communication must be positive and non-blaming, allowing both persons to state their perspectives without criticism or interruption. Sometimes just being heard goes a long way toward easing the conflict. We need to focus on our own feelings and experiences, using “I” statements instead of blaming or accusing. Listening, trying to understand a different point of view, and a willingness to compromise are all important. So are the ability to say “I’m sorry” and “Thank you.” Look upon differences not as creating distance, but as an opportunity for growth in relationships.

Winter Refreshing Cocktails

Anthony Dichiara, Cocktail Coordinator
SeaSide Wine & Spirits and Spirits of Madison

Nothing is more refreshing than a well crafted cocktail. With all of the quality spirits and liqueurs available it is now easier than ever to create fantastic drinks at home. This is also a good time to mention that when it comes to cocktails it is a great practice to get out of the mind set that because you are mixing your spirit, something cheap is the best way to go. Now with this being said, you do not have to purchase the most expensive, but a nice middle of the road, great tasting liquor or mixer. This will really bring your drink to life.

First lets start simple, some of the easiest cocktails to make at home are liquor mixed with "something else," whether that be a soda, tonic, or a bar juice. Some of our favorites come from Fever Tree, who make fantastic tonic and soda waters, some of which are infused with botanicals, which really add a little something extra to your drink. The Mediterranean Tonic Water has a unique flavor that mixes well with gin or vodka. Also the RIPE line of bar juices, made here in Connecticut, are some of the best. These fresh made juices are never frozen, heated or have had any preservatives added to them. All of them are delicious, but the Agave Margarita and San Marzano Bloody Mary Mix are my favorites.

Now lets not forget about liqueurs. These slightly less alcoholic, but highly -flavored spirits can really add that extra punch to your cocktail. One such liqueur I have been playing with quite a bit lately is Ancho Reyes Chili Liqueur. This smoky, slightly spicy spirit really adds a bit of depth and an unexpected little kick to any drink you add it to.

So the next time you feel like having a cocktail, do not be afraid to experiment, or just try something new. You never know, a new favorite drink could be on the horizon!

Old Lyme Open Space Commission Winter Project

Eklund Pond Phragmite Removal

In 2010 the Town of Old Lyme acquired a 7 acre pond at 316 Ferry Road, behind DEEP headquarters, as a result of a sub-division on Sandpiper Lane. This 7 acre pond is a unique and exciting acquisition for the Town as all of our previous acquisitions have been mixed hardwood forests.

Eklund Pond has been a haven for various kinds of wildlife and up until recently, has been a great spot for bird watching and wildlife observation. Many of the State birders check this site regularly. It's an especially interesting habitat because of its coastal location, attracting many migratory birds on their way south in the fall. Other reptiles and amphibians that thrive in fresh water marshes can be observed amongst Connecticut's native wetland plants.

In the 4 years since the Town acquired this parcel, the Open Space Commission has observed the pond being taken over by phragmites. These phragmites have crowded out the native vegetation and changed the habitat and therefore the plant and wildlife diversity that was previously so notable. Left unchecked, Eklund Pond will become completely populated by this monoculture within the next couple of years.

The Open Space Commission applied to the Inland Wetlands Commission and received approval to engage the services of These photos show Eklund Pond in July of 2010 and in November of 2014.

Snowy Egret Wetland Services LLC, of Old Saybrook, to use their manpower and amphibious vehicle, to cut the phragmites. This is part of a three or more year program to bring the phragmites under control (hopefully) without the use of pesticides.

The goal of this phragmite control program is to restore the vital role this Old Lyme fresh water wetlands plays in supporting native fish, amphibians, birds and other visiting wildlife as well as protecting its unique natural resources for future generations.

The Start of the 2015 Session

By Representative Devin Carney

For the towns of Lyme, Old Lyme, Old Saybrook, & Westbrook

This legislative session brings many challenges but also many opportunities to steer Connecticut's economy in the right direction. The 2015 session began on January 7th and ends June 3rd. This is what's known as the 'long session' as it is longer since it focuses on all types of legislation (the 2016 short session focuses solely on fiscal matters).

The governor will present a budget proposal in early February that is designed to provide guidelines for legislators. Non-partisan analysts project a budget deficit of nearly $3 billion over the next two fiscal years. Thus, it is vital his proposals seriously take into account the state's debt and unfunded liabilities.

As a member of the Transportation Committee, I will be focused on improving our roads, bridges, and rails. The governor has made repairing our transportation infrastructure a key component for his second term. These upgrades are crucial, but also costly. Both the governor and I have put forward proposals for a Constitutional amendment to ensure that funds dedicated to the special transportation fund will be used exclusively for that purpose

(a "lockbox"). Too often the special transportation fund has been raided for other purposes, so it is imperative we prevent it from continuing.

As a member of the Environment Committee, I will focus on the continued preservation of the Long Island Sound while also fighting overly burdensome mandates that often target shoreline communities.

As a member of the Higher Education and Employment Advancement Committee, I will work towards making secondary education affordable and ensuring the necessary training for in-demand jobs when available.

I look forward to partnering with you throughout my tenure as your State Representative and keeping you informed on all Capitol-related news. If you have any questions or concerns, please call me at (860) 388-7612 or email me at repdevincarney@gmail.com.

Welcome Summer with the 2015 Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour

Old Lyme and Lyme will be abuzz with activity June 19 & 20, when the Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour makes its biennial return. Just in time for the start of summer, the Garden Tour is the perfect way to celebrate its arrival.

Tucked away amid the stone walls and rolling hills of the Lyme and Old Lyme countryside, the six gardens on the Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour are brimming with natural beauty, and showcase their owners' gardening talents and styles. Here these gardeners nurture vegetables, herbs, perennials, and annuals alongside native trees, shrubs, and grasses. One, a master gardener, even specializes in eco-friendly and sustainable gardening. But there's more to be seen on the Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour than just the plants: one property features an artist's studio that once belonged to a member of Miss Florence Griswold's artist colony; while another, designed and lovingly maintained by its owner-gardener, includes a walk-through conservatory with unusual specimen plants.

This year's Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour takes place (rain or shine) on Friday June 19 and Saturday June 20, 2015. The self-guided tour runs from 10am to 4pm both days, and visitors should allow at least three hours to complete the tour. Advance tickets for the Garden Tour ($25 advance, $30 day of tour) will be available locally beginning in May, or may be obtained by visiting the Child & Family Agency website (www.childandfamilyagency.org) or sending a check and SASE to P.O. Box 324, Old Lyme, CT 06371.

All proceeds from the 2015 Lyme/Old Lyme Garden Tour will benefit the many services and capital projects of the Child & Family Agency of Southeastern Connecticut, a private, nonprofit organization dedicated to the well-being and development of all children and their families. With offices in New London, Essex, and Groton, Child & Family Agency is the largest nonprofit children's service provider in southeastern Connecticut. For more information, see www.childandfamilyagency.org.

Wallet Medication Card

The Connecticut Department of Public Health is working with partners including the Connecticut Hospital Association (CHA), the CHREF Patient Safety Organization, Qualidigm, and the Qualidigm PSO to promote awareness of patient safety strategies and empower patients to be more active partners in their care.

As the first step in this statewide effort to engage patients in safety, we have developed a wallet medication card in order to assist consumers in maintaining an accurate record of the medicines they take and other important information. It is critical that your healthcare providers have complete information about your medical history and current medications, and we encourage all consumers to use the wallet medication card or a similar tool to track this information.

The wallet medication card and instructions are available in two formats by clicking on the links at the website below. The first format (PDF) is for consumers who will print the card and complete it by hand. The second format (Word) is for consumers who would like to download the card as a Microsoft Word document and save it to their own computer for filling out electronically before printing.
